

Adding Billing Periods

Ubersmith has five built-in billing periods, one-time, monthly, quarterly, semi-annually, and annually, to define how often a service is billed. These periods are common, and provide a foundation for Ubersmith. You can adjust these provided periods to your preference, but they are not able to be removed. You can also add your own custom billing periods. Once a billing period has been created, you can use it only once.
